It addresses issues on training, representation, getting work, marketing, accounts and other aspects of working freelance.

These workshops offer students an opportunity to discuss career paths, pointing them in the direction of further support and advice, and sharing with students our personal experience of the industry.

MUSICAL THEATRE WORKSHOPS

Musical Theatre workshops explore general musical theatre technique tailored to your groups age and ability, exploring themes, characters and stories from the show. Students will work with songs and scenes from the show, performing a song at the end of the workshop as a group.

Advanced groups may also opt for a professional audition masterclass, in which a professional casting workshop is presented, teaching groups choreography and songs from the show in real-time, challenging them to perform to the best of their ability.

DRAMA WORKSHOP

With a focus on drama, this workshop is ideal for all student groups. Workshops may include acting, storytelling and devising exercises inspired by characters, stories and themes from the show, such as friendship, changing times, politics and changing culture. Through improvisation games inspired by the show, stories will be discovered which will be further developed by the group to explore changing perspectives.
